COMPANY-SPONSORED TRAINING & CERTIFICATION

Become a Certified Funding Advisor.

Looking for a career change? Learn to help business owners get funding - and earn commissions on qualifying funded business.

Your training and certification fee: $0

Wallvestment covers training and certification for qualified, accepted applicants. Learn the products, complete the training and earn your Wallvestment Funding Advisor certification.

You build the relationships. We handle the funding review.

You do not need to provide the money yourself. Find business owners who need capital for inventory, equipment, payroll or growth. Understand the need, introduce our funding options and help them complete the application. Wallvestment guides the review and funding process.

How you make money

Earn commissions on eligible transactions you help bring through funding, under your partner agreement. Build client relationships and, when qualified, develop a team under the program rules.

Who can apply?

Good with people? Willing to learn and follow through? Sales professionals, career changers, students, recent graduates and business networkers can apply for consideration.

Apply and be accepted -> Train and earn certification -> Start helping business owners.
